

Chapter 1

Learning via uniform convergence

In this Chapter we will develop a more general tool, namely the uniform convergence, and apply it to show that any finite class is learnable in the agnostic PAC model with general loss functions, as long as the range loss function is bounded.

1.1 Uniform convergence is sufficient for learnability